

How People Learn

Module 3: Learner Differences

UDL Principles

There are three UDL principles. The first is to provide multiple means of engagement (affective networks are the “WHY” of learning). The second is to provide multiple means of representation (recognition networks are the “WHAT” of learning). The third is to provide multiple means of action and expression (strategic networks are the “HOW” of learning).